PHILLIES HISTORY

The first game in National League history was played in Philadelphia in 1876, the Philadelphia Athletics facing Boston on April 22 at 25th and Jefferson Streets. The Philadelphia entry, however, didn't last the season and so the Quaker City was without representation in the National League until 1883. Alfred J. Reach purchased the Worcester, Mass., club (Brown Stockings) and moved it to Philadelphia, adopting "Phillies" as the official team name, a takeoff on Philadelphia or Philly.

The name "Phillies" is the oldest team name in the league.

The Phillies' initial game was a 4-3 loss to the Providence Grays, before 1,000 at Recreation Park, 23rd Street and Ridge Pike. Bob Ferguson managed the Phils in that first game, May 1, 1883.

In 1887, the Phillies moved into a new "magnificent park" at Broad and Huntingdon Streets, which was later to become known as Baker Bowl (capacity 15,000). An estimated 20,000 jammed the park for the game on April 30 and saw the Phillies maul the New York Giants, 19-10.

One of baseball's biggest disasters struck the Phillies in 1903. Twelve persons were killed and 232 injured when the left field bleachers collapsed after fans had climbed to the top row to get a better view of a near-by fire.

The Phillies' owner in 1910, Horace Fogel, started a personal campaign with the press to change the name of his club. "The name Phillies is too trite and Quakers (as they were sometimes called) stands for peaceful people who will dodge a fight. We're not going to be that way. We're going to fight. Why don't you fellas call the club the 'Live Wires'," Fogel pleaded of the press. His efforts went for naught.

Baker Bowl, which had a short right-field line (280 feet) and a rather deep left field (341) became the site of the World Series in 1915 as the Phillies won their first league title. The Boston Red Sox, however, took the World Series, four games to one.

In 1927, the Baker Bowl wooden bleachers again gave way, and the Phillies, through the graces of Philadelphia Athletics' owner John Shibe, were invited to play at Shibe Park until the necessary repairs could be made. "I remember our first game in Shibe Park very well," recalled the late owner Gerry Nugent. "It was the day Lindbergh arrived in Paris."

Back to Baker Bowl went the Phillies, who played the first Sunday baseball game in Philadelphia there in 1934, losing to Brooklyn, 8-7.

The Phillies moved permanently to Shibe Park on July 4, 1938 after 51 years at Baker Bowl. The Phils lost the first game to Boston, 10-8, but came back behind the pitching of Claude Passeau to win the nightcap, 10-2.

Late in 1943, the Phillies were sold to R.R.M. Carpenter, Jr. Between Reach and Carpenter, nine others owned the club. To stimulate interest in the club, a contest was conducted to find a nickname for the Phillies. For 1944 and 1945, the club was known as the Blue Jays, although they still maintained the official "Phillies" title.

Seven years after Carpenter took over, the Phillies rose to become National League champions, for the second time in club history. Again, the World Series crown eluded them, as the New York Yankees swept the series, 4-0.

Bob Carpenter, after 29 years as the club president, moved up to chairman of the Board on Nov. 22, 1972. He was succeeded as president by his son, Ruly Carpenter.

After 32½ seasons in Shibe Park-Connie Mack Stadium in which the Phillies won 1,205 and lost 1,340, the club moved into the spectacular new Veterans Stadium for the 1971 season.

The Philadelphia Athletics won the first game at Shibe Park, 8-1, over Boston on April 12, 1909. The Phillies won the park's finale, 2-1 over Montreal on Oct. 1, 1970, a 10-inning battle.

In the first game played in the 56,731 seat Veterans Stadium, the Phillies defeated the Montreal Expos 4-1 on April 10, 1971.

By the end of the decade the Phillies had developed into one of baseball's top franchises, winning division titles in three successive years, 1976, 1977 and 1978.

Then finally on Tuesday, October 21, 1980 at 11:29 p.m. the Phillies achieved the ultimate—they became World Champions for the first time in their 98-year history. The Phils downed the Kansas City Royals, four games to two, and Mike Schmidt was named the Series MVP.

The Carpenter era with the Phillies came to an end on Oct. 29, 1981, when they sold the club to a group headed by Bill Giles.

For the seond time in four years the Phillies captured the National League Pennant in 1983 and played for the World Championship. However, history did not repeat as the Phils lost the series to the Baltimore Orioles four games to one.

PHILA. BASEBALL HALL OF FAME

Philadelphia has a great baseball history and the Phillies decided to do something about it back in 1978.

That was the first year for the Philadelphia Baseball Hall of Fame, an area of the 200 level concourse behind home plate, where former Phillies players and ex-Philadelphia Athletics stars are honored.

Each year members of the Philadelphia and area media select six finalists from which the fans elect one player from each team to be inducted.

Players must have five or more years of service to be eligible for the Hall. Coaches and managers need four years. All candidates must be retired for three years before they become eligible.

The largest trade in Phillies history involved eight players. In fact there were two eight player deals involving the Phils.

On October 7, 1969 Richie Allen, Cookie Rojas and Jerry Johnson were traded to St. Louis for Curt Flood, Tim McCarver, Joe Hoerner and Byron Browne. Flood refused to report and the Cardinals sent Willie Montanez and Bob Browning in his place.

On February 23, 1979 the Phillies traded Barry Foote, Ted Sizemore, Jerry Martin, Dick Botelho and Henry Mack to the Cubs for Manny Trillo, Greg Gross and Dave Rader.

RULES OF INTEREST

AMATEUR DRAFT

FREE AGENT DRAFT SUMMARY: Major League and National Association clubs meet twice a year for the purpose of drafting free agent player talent. Meetings are conducted by conference phone. Selection of a free agent entitles the club to exclusive right of negotiation with that player from the date of selection until 15 days prior to next draft. There are two phases to each draft:

Regular Phase: Clubs choose in reverse order of major league standings, selecting free agents and previous draftees who had not signed contracts but had instead enrolled in four-year colleges and since had either completed his junior year or become 21 years of age. Each organization may select only one player for each of its major league, AAA and AA rosters, but is not limited to the number of picks for "A" level. Minor league clubs select in the same relative order as their parent clubs.

Secondary Phase: Selection of free agents who had been drafted previously but who had not signed contracts before the negotiation right expired (except those draftees who had enrolled in a four-year college and had since graduated or become 21 years of age now drafted in the regular phase). It is possible for a club to redraft a player whom it was unable to sign after the original selection, but only with the written consent of that player. The order of selection is by lot with the 26 major league clubs divided into two 13 team groups with the groups alternating having first selections in respective drafts.

The Philadelphia Inquirer

"Eskin is there—at the Vet, the Spectrum, St. Joseph's University (76ers practice site) or the Palestra—far more than his TV peers, and his interest is translated to the viewers in the form of more lively interviews, better quotes and occasionally, a scoop."
Philadelphia Daily News
November, 1984

"Nobody, but nobody works harder to be knowledgeable and privy to what's happening in Philadelphia sports than Howard Eskin."
The Trenton Times
August, 1982

"In two years and one month, he has surpassed Al Meltzer as the best in town. If something's happening or I want to learn something, I watch Eskin. I'm not alone."
Philadelphia Daily News
November, 1984

"He is hailed not only as the best in the Philadelphia market by most TV critics, but as the man who works harder than any other sportscaster in the city..."
The Trenton Times

"He's a hyperactive guy who considers sleep an intrusion on his workday."
The Philadelphia Inquirer
